COLOR SYSTEM — A. DIGITAL SYSTEM PALETTE

TECH PURPLE

HEX #6A1B9A
RGB 106 / 27 / 154
CMYK 69 / 82 / 0 / 40

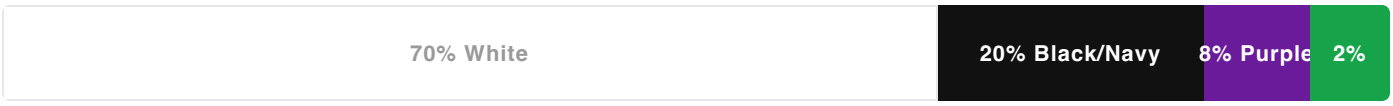
USAGE

Tech Purple is the dominant brand identifier. Used for accent elements, CTA buttons, section markers, and key UI highlights. It is an accent driver, not a wallpaper.

This color feels technological, modern, and precise. It communicates SaaS energy and strong brand recognition without being playful or decorative.

#6A1B9A TECH PURPLE	#111111 SYSTEM BLACK	#1F2937 DASHBOARD NAVY
#F4F6F8 GRID GRAY	#FFFFFF WHITE	#16A34A SIGNAL GREEN

DIGITAL PROPORTION



Purple is an accent driver, not a wallpaper. Signal Green is functional only — success states, active indicators. Never decorative. Kraft never appears in digital contexts.

ACCESSIBILITY CONTRAST

White text on Purple — WCAG AA pass (7.2:1)

Purple text on White — WCAG AA pass (7.2:1)

White text on Navy — WCAG AA pass (12.6:1)

Green on dark backgrounds only — avoid on white

Never use purple text on navy — insufficient contrast

COLOR SYSTEM — B. MATERIAL & PRINT PALETTE

INDUSTRIAL KRAFT

HEX #D6C2A1
RGB 214 / 194 / 161
CMYK 0 / 9 / 25 / 16

Tier 3 — Material Color Only

Kraft is used exclusively for physical materials to add material contrast. It never appears in digital systems.

It grounds the brand in the physical world — adding tactile depth to printed touchpoints without softening the tech identity.

PHOTOGRAPHY & MOOD

- Clean desks with monitors showing real dashboards
- Neutral lighting — no heavy filters or warm color grading
- Dark mode UI contrast — screens with purple accents visible
- Subtle purple glow in screen highlights
- Avoid generic AI imagery — no robots, holograms, or blue futuristic clichés
- Maintain neutral or cool color balance — avoid overly warm grading
